33RD ARREST MADE BY F.B.I.

New Jersey Draftsman Is Held In U. S. Espionage Cleanup

NEW YORK, July 2.—Federal agents today made their 33rd arrest in a counter-espionage cleanup started Sunday by taking into custody William Gustav Kaercher, 45, of Westwood, N. J., on a charge of conspiracy to violate the federal code.

Kaercher, described as being of German nativity but a naturalized U. S. citizen, was employed by the American Gas and Electric Co., as a draftsman for power plants.

Kaercher pleaded innocent and two others arrested earlier—Adolph Henry Walschewsky, a steward aboard the liner Uruguay, and Conrad Otto Dold, a steward of the liner Excalibur—pleaded guilty to charges of transmitting information concerning the United States to a foreign power.

Renee Nezenen, 36, a clipper steward at the same time changed his plea of innocent to guilty.

All four were held in $25,000 bail.

Of the 33 arrested, 10 have pleaded guilty, 18 pleaded innocent, and 5 are being held for arraignment.

A federal grand jury yesterday began an inquiry into the suspected espionage.

COUNTY LISTS 549 NEW MEN FOR U.S. ARMY

Salem Draft Board Signs Up 183 21-Year-Old Soldiers-Elect

LISBON LISTS 180: 186 AT LIVERPOOL

Cards Will Be "Shuffled" Next Wednesday, Serial Numbers Assigned

Five hundred and forty-nine "new men" were registered in Columbiana county yesterday as selective service draft boards enrolled youths who had become of age since the initial draft last October.

Draft board No. 2 in Salem accounted for 183 of the 21-year-olds; No. 3 at Lisbon, 180 new men; and No. 1 at East Liverpool, 186.

In the Salem area, 134 were registered at the local draft board headquarters in the Memorial building; 32 others at Columbiana and 17 at East Rochester. The Salem district comprises seven townships.

In the Lisbon draft board area, 52 were enrolled at Lisbon, 58 at East Palestine, 56 at Wellsville and 14 at Salineville.

Reports Are Turned In

The registration reports were forwarded today to state selective service headquarters at Columbus. The cards are to be shuffled next Wednesday and serial numbers assigned. A few days later, in Washington, a second draft lottery will be held. About 1,000 serial numbers will be used, instead of last fall's 9,000.

The sequence in which these 1,000 numbers will be pulled out will determine the order numbers of the new registrants. The new numbers will then be integrated among the old ones.

As with all registrants in the draft, the new registrants will face the luck of their order numbers in being called to service. An apparent contradiction exists, however, with open statements by the army that it expects to have these younger men in service as soon as possible, since they are exactly the type of material best to train for today's speedy, mechanized warfare.

This contradiction is expected to be worked out in the manner in

THREE ARE INJURED IN HEAD-ON CRASH

Three persons were injured, two seriously, in the head-on collision of a steel-laden truck and an automobile on a curve on Route 30, three and one-half miles north of East Liverpool, at 10:15 a. m. today.

Robert Duval, 29, of New York City, driver of the car, suffered from shock and lacerations of the face and head. Miss Bernice Bullock, 24, of New York City, his companion, suffered a possible skull fracture and severe arm lacerations.

Members of Andy Kirk's colored orchestra, they were enroute to Akron for an engagement there tonight.

Harry Small, 34, of Northville, Mich., the truck driver, received injuries to his chest and one shoulder.

All were removed to the East Liverpool City hospital. Duval's condition is described as "not so good."

The automobile and the cab of the truck were demolished, Salem state highway patrolmen said.

"WOOL PRISONERS" TAKEN BY POLICE

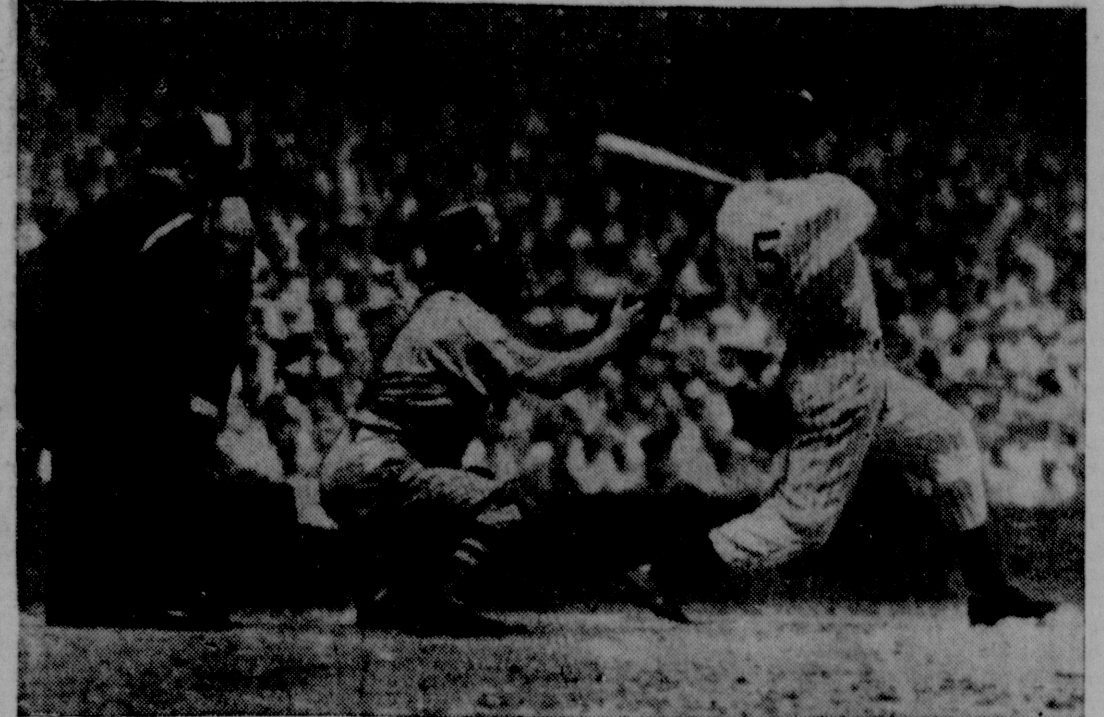

LISBON, July 2.—Sheriff George Hayes, accompanied by Detective John Winlow of Beaver county, Pa., and Corp. Mike Zerbe of the Pennsylvania state motor police, went to Zanesville Tuesday and returned with two prisoners suspected of having been implicated in the theft of wool in this county as well as in Pennsylvania.

The men, Morgan Cox, 26, and Brigham Andrew Sanders, 41, of near Frankford Springs, Pa., were turned over to the Pennsylvania authorities and are awaiting action by the Beaver county grand jury. Neither could be identified as having been implicated in the theft of fleece from the Ward farm at Negley near the state line several weeks ago.

The men were apprehended by authorities at Zanesville, as they were attempting to dispose of a truck load of 54 fleeces of wool. The arrest was broadcast over the police radio and Sheriff Hayes immediately contacted both Pennsylvania and Zanesville police who held the pair for the local officers.

NAZIS CLAIM NEW VICTORIES

Red Army Reports It Has Wiped Out Advance German Forces

(By Associated Press)

BERLIN, July 2.—The German high command, claiming unabated swift progress into Soviet Russia, declared today 100,000 Red army soldiers have been captured and "a large part" of Russia's trapped armies destroyed in the annihilating struggle in the Bialystok-Minsk area.

Two communiques "from the fuhrer's headquarters" also reported ponderous quantities of Russian tanks and field guns seized.

A special war bulletin placed the apparent elimination of a huge Red army force "east of Bialystok."

This is the area in which the Germans have reported two Russian armies (estimated in some quarters at 400,000 men) pocketed in the tongue of Sovietized territory between East Prussia and German-occupied Poland.

In this battle alone, it said, 400 captured armored cars and 300 cannons already have been counted, indicating that still greater booty may have been taken.

Just to the south, the regular communiques claimed 220 more Red army tanks put out of action by capture or destruction in two other battles.

One hundred tanks were destroyed near Zloczow, south of the Pinsk marshes, and another 120 "fell into our hands" in the Dubno region when Russian armored forces apparently tried to slice in on German rear divisions and "were crushed," the communiques said.

YANK FLIERS BAG GERMANS

Eagle Squadron Members Take Part In Raid Over France

(By Associated Press)

LONDON, July 2.—American fliers in the Eagle squadron were credited with bagging three of a total of 17 German planes claimed by the RAF today in a series of daylight raids on northern France.

Strong RAF forces smashed across the channel late this morning, and squadrons of fighters and bombers still were streaking over northern France during the afternoon, following up a night attack in which British bombs were said to have straddled the dock of a German battleship at Brest.

The RAF acknowledged that two bombers and seven fighters were lost in the daylight sweeps, the first large scale offensive against occupied France in which the American Eagle squadron was reported taking part.

The British announcement said an airbase at Merville, near Lille, and a railway junction southeast of Lille were bombed by British Blenheims guarded by a strong fighter escort. Bombs burst on runways and buildings and among dispersed aircraft, it reported.

The attacks were pressed home in the face of enemy opposition from ground defenses and a large number of enemy fighters were beaten off with heavy losses," it continued.

"Reports so far received show that 17 enemy aircraft were destroyed, of which two were shot down by our bombers. Three of the enemy fighters destroyed were shot down by the Eagle squadron."

The councilmen, with the police problem tossed into their laps so suddenly, deferred discussion and possible action until a special meeting next Monday night.

PASCOLA IS GIVEN SENTENCE IN PEN

LISBON, July 2.—John Pascola, 52, Salem coal mine operator, was sentenced to serve from one to seven years in the Ohio penitentiary after being found guilty today by Judge Frank Cope of having violated his parole from a previous conviction.

Pascola was placed on five years' probation in September, 1940, following his indictment by the grand jury on a charge of grand larceny in connection with the theft of a quantity of copper pigs from the plant of the Deming Co. in Salem. The probation was granted by Former Judge W. F. Lones.

A month ago, however, Pascola was tried by a jury in Beaver county, Pa., and found guilty of grand larceny in the theft of railroad tracks from a mine. After serving a jail sentence there, Pascola was returned here on a charge of violating his parole.

COUNCIL ACTS AFTER HEATED VERBAL SETTO

Extra Man Needed, Asserts Rafferty, Citing New State Law

SOLONS CLAIM THEY WERE NOT INFORMED

Rap Director For Not Giving Them Warning On New Hour Law

City council demanded today that the civil service commission hold examinations to establish eligibility lists in both the police and fire departments.

Council's action, instituted last night when the clerk was instructed to write to the commission, followed Safety Director J. T. Rafferty's appeal for council to take some action to permit the employment of special policemen, when needed, to keep the police department up to the proper strength.

Claims Extra Man Needed

Rafferty, in defense of his appointment of Phillip A. Rhodes as a special officer two weeks ago, told council that an extra patrolman is needed during the summer when the regular officers were taking vacations. Without the special officer, he said, there would be periods during the day when there would be no policeman on duty.

Last summer the vacation periods were handled by the patrolmen "doubling-up" on their shifts. This year, however, a state law, which became effective Monday, prohibits the police from working more than 48 hours and six days a week.

Several members of council criticized the safety director for not telling them in advance of the impending state law.

Rafferty asked council to repeal, at last night's meeting, a city ordinance governing the employment of the present number of policemen in order that he could keep the extra man on duty. Otherwise, he said, "there will be a four-hour period tomorrow when there will be no policeman on duty."

The councilmen, with the police problem tossed into their laps so suddenly, deferred discussion and possible action until a special meeting next Monday night.

Suggests Ordinance Change

Councilman Charles Rheutan, chairman of the safety committee, said he believed the ordinance should be changed if it conflicts with the state measure.

Rheutan introduced the motion calling for the civil service commission to schedule police and fire examinations after Rafferty told council that two requests to the commission clerk for an examination to create a police eligibility list had been ignored. The first request was made last February and the second in April, he said.

Councilman C. P. Zimmerman took the director to task for putting on an extra policeman without letting council know of the situation.

Member A. P. Morris expressed displeasure with Rafferty's attitude in trying to place the responsibility

Minutes Are Important To Missouri Selectees

KANSAS CITY—Hours—even minutes—forgotten except in family reminiscences—assumed major importance for two Missourians in yesterday's registration of newly turned 21-year-olds under the Selective Service Act.

At St. Louis, Harold John Lallinger called his draft board at 7 p. m., just two hours before the deadline to say:

"I reached 21 years old, just this very moment. Do I have to register?"

"You sure do," was the reply. Uncle Sam needs you."

In Kansas City, Mrs. Herbert Yates recalled that she never was certain whether her son was born just before midnight or just after 21 years ago. The family agreed on July 1 as the birth date. The son, Jack Tucker New registered for the draft.

THE PUBLIC BE WHAT?

Congress, meaning the politicians who make laws, should apologize to every potential selectee over 28 years old. There is no excuse for the inconvenience and suspense inflicted on selectees in this class.

Having been given reason to believe it was going to become official policy to make 28 the upper age limit for selectees—the senate had adopted the revision—they are left dangling in doubt while the lower house makes up its mind. July 8, it appears, is the earliest date on which the representatives will be able to find time to think about selectees.

Brig. Gen. Hershey, deputy national director of selective service, has explained that "if" the bill is enacted in its present form registrants who were 28 or over and had not been inducted prior to July 1 will be deferred. That is some comfort, but there is still that "if." With no way of knowing how many men between 28 and 36 have been kept on the anxious seat while the legislators were making up their minds, almost anyone will forgive any victim of such tomfoolery if he inquires acidly, "What minds?"

PIANISSIMO

Ignace Jan Paderewski, one of perhaps a half dozen musicians whose names were household words earlier in this century, was a great showman, a distinguished Polish patriot, and a brilliant musician—in the order of their importance. He used showmanship on his musical ability to earn a great deal of money to help Poland. His success was the envy of many another musician with equal or greater ability but lacking the showmanship to become a celebrity.

For reasons as mysterious as the elements in the success of Jack Dempsey, Babe Ruth, the late Lillian Hellman, the late Huey P. Long, and others not too numerous to mention, Paderewski was able to give the public what it wanted. His admirers must regret that circumstances made it necessary for him to die old, sick, discouraged—and with his beloved Poland gone. It would have been more in keeping with his style if the end had been a 10-fingered crash of triumphant sound, the kind he did so well at the height of his career. He was a great figure in the currents and cross-currents of harmony and discord these last 50 years.

ANTICIPATION MAY BE BETTER

The annual heat surprise now is no longer surprising, but it will be repeated in 1942 just as though it never had happened before. The good old summertime is always good for one more buildup.

With the first mild days in April it is customary to start talking about it. Outer coats are shed and woolen underclothing is put on probation. By the end of May, spring has passed and the good old summertime now is spoken of familiarly. This is, the knowing say, the genuine article.

Then, sometime in June, comes the good old summertime. The temperature soars into the 90's. The humidity gets out of bounds and stays there. Heat is a vast featherbed of ennui from which there is no escape. Ordinarily active persons scheme and plot for minutes to sidestep something that would take only a few seconds. There is no relief during the day and almost none at night. All the pictures of slim dwellers gasping on fire escapes and farmers hauling water for stock that ever have been seen come shimmering back in a torrid haze of recollection. It is, at last, the good old summertime and to save their necks the sweating victims can't be sure what's good about it, unless it's the anticipation.

THEIR HOUR OF TRIUMPH

The first dictator-eat-dictator clash is the triumph of the propagandists. All thoughtful men should pay a minute of silent tribute with crossed fingers to the experts who get paid for directing public thought.

They finally have reached the stage they were bound to reach some day if they worked hard. In the war between Germany and Russia, nothing is believable. Henceforth, propaganda will have to exert its effect in reverse.

Thus, if the Russians want anyone to believe they are giving a good account of themselves their propagandists will have to say, "We have come to the end of our string. Stalin is an imposter. Our armies are in full retreat. The Comintern was a mistake. All is lost."

The Germans, on the other hand, will have to do something to make the enemy look good if they want to continue to be thought of as Men From Mars. "We are getting our ears knocked off," their propagandists will complain. "This looks like the saddest thing since we got licked in the World War I."

When a liar can do his act in reverse, he's a journeyman and there's a job waiting for him in any propaganda ministry that doesn't call itself a bureau of information.

HIGH SPOTS IN THE MAIL

From the Czechoslovak Press Bureau, 1440 Broadway, New York City: Mr. Eduard Benes, president of the Czechoslovak government in exile in London, recalls his prediction that the United States and Soviet Russia would join the war against Hitler. "After three years of terrible experience and catastrophes, the world has reached the grouping which the democratic government of Czechoslovakia wished to have before Munich. Wishes to have at a time when a free Europe was able to crush Germany in a short war. Events as they have developed since 1938 have justified the foreign policy of the pre-Munich government of Prague, which refused collaboration with what has proved to be history's greatest gangsterism."

From "For Finland," 522 Fifth ave., New York City: "Finland may have to fight, but fight whom? Fight Russia and Germany? But, just as she is not job.

pro-Russia, Finland is not pro-Nazi. She is only pro-Finland. She must therefore fight, if at all, in the best way she knows how to defend her own independence and political integrity."

THE STARS SAY:

For Thursday, July 3

THE LUNAR transits for this day are not entirely favorable to contentment, accomplishment and peace of mind. In fact their influence is to the contrary and all depends upon the amount of poise, strategy and diplomacy directly brought to bear on difficult or discordant situations. This is the state of affairs both in public and intimate relations, with danger of untoward occurrences in the former and unhappy ones in the latter. Shun extravagance and ill will and there may be some profit and personal satisfaction, tact and finesse ruling the day.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may be put to it to save a difficult and doubtful state of affairs by the exercise of tact, diplomacy and graciousness in spots where the situation is adverse, discordant and threatening. Several elements enter into this challenge, with loss through extravagance or excessive expenditure as well as danger through some sort of public conflict or menace. With subdued impulses and inner urges there might be artistic or spiritual balm to offset difficulties or woes.

A child born on this day may have talents of a high creative or artistic nature, with inner vision or aspiration serving where more material urges would prove disappointing.

POTATO — GIFT TO HUMANITY

It's Great American Food Contribution

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
I never feel exactly as if I were really up-to-date with what is going on in the world until I reach a city where Mr. Damon Runyon's column appears in the papers. I have just lately ensconced myself in Southern California and the excellent Los Angeles Examiner carries Mr. Runyon—so I feel better. Almost the very first article of his I read justified my confidence, because he posed the question if he could have only one food on a desert island which one would he choose, and he chose the potato.

This question may be at any time a pressing one, what will price fixing and food conservation in the offing. Everybody says the war is going to spread and with that in view I have planted a vegetable garden so that when the time comes I won't have to depend on the vagaries of food distribution and can retire to a quiet place I know up the mountain with a sackful of my own potatoes. Because I agree with Mr. Runyon and I am planting mostly potatoes.

Virtues of Potatoes
There are several virtues of the potato which Mr. Runyon did not mention. In the first place it is all American. So add digestibility to the right side of the ledger for potatoes. Even when 3½ pounds a day are consumed 92 per cent of the starch and 70 per cent of the protein are absorbed.

Not the least of the potato's virtues is the large variety of ways in which it can be cooked and served.

There are several other things about the potato, but I will have to wait until I hear from Mr. Runyon again before I divulge them.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
J. G., Detroit, Mich.—"Can a simple goiter or slight enlargement of the thyroid be cured by X-ray treatments, and if so is there any danger of those treatments affecting the other glands in the neck?"

Answer: X-ray has been used for treatment in some forms of goiter. No one can be certain, however, whether it will do good in a given case or not. It does no harm to other glands in the neck.

"THE GORGON'S MASK"

by Van Wyck Mason

CHAPTER TWENTY-FIVE

Confound it! North was actually flushing at Nadia's flattery. In a vain effort to collect, to study himself, he gazed across the snowy expanse of tablecloth at Von Rentner—huge, faultlessly dressed, and thunder-browed. The Prussian must be seriously smitten with Nadia; he was positively glaring over a bowl of flaming hibiscus set before him.

To the German's right was Bruce Kilgour, talking pleasant nonsense with Phedre Renoire, and apparently amusing her.

Though his brain urged the fact upon him, North found it nearly impossible to believe that a majority of this gay and brilliant company were contemplating treachery, violence; even murder hovered in the flower-scented air and then—WAR!

"You arrived early, no?" Nadia's expression reflected only polite curiosity.

"No," North hardly knew why she chose to lie—of course she knew better.

She ignored the falsehood and, idly picking at her file of fish, smiled a little sadly.

"Congratulations, mon Capitaine. You have found the right line of attack."

"I wonder," she murmured, "your seeking out our host was a masterpiece of reasoning, of intelligence. But do you imagine you have made any real progress?"

"Progress?"

"That was the word I used." Almost impulsively her shapely hand sought his below the table. "Ah, you think you are brave, my gallant Captain. But your cleverness will avail you not at all. Why must you fly in the face of the Fates?"

He was too rapt in the candle-lit perfection of her features to reply.

"You talked to our host—you think the affair is settled your way, no?"

"Affair?" North sought a feeble refuge in a monosyllable, so great was the turmoil in his brain.

"You think you understand everything, no?" Her hand tightened over his and pressed a tiny square of paper into his palm while her voice sank to a faint, desperately earnest whisper. "My phone. Please leave immediately after dinner."

"And when is the Japanese squadron due, Mr. Kanamura?"

Vaguely, North heard the Lloyd girl putting the question in a transparent effort to be polite. The frozen-faced Japanese was trying to pretend it was a matter of routine importance!

Wearied by nearly forty-eight hours of sleeplessness, North was stirred faintly by smelling smoke as of wood burning. But reluctantly, his fatigued perception re-lapsed into their quiescent state.

The conversation veered to a discussion of the forthcoming Kamemeha Day. Suddenly a shrill, throbbing scream came echoing down those broad stone stairs which North had ascended on his arrival.

As though jerked by invisible wires, every head turned towards the hallway, and North suffered a second shock. A gorgeous red and yellow batik across the hall was barred by shifting strata of smoke.

The sting of the wood smoke assailed his nostrils again.... That meant danger for the absolutely essential documents in the wall safe. His stomach felt like a vacuum. What if he were to lose his hard won victory?

Perceily questioning, North turned to face Nadia and found her face a lovely, inscrutable piece of marble. She returned his glance—calmly, almost sympathetically.

Not so Abner Polk. Glaring furiously, he stood undecided at the head of the table. "What the devil is this?" he growled, then his large frame seemed to contract. He looked dangerous at he called, "Come upstairs, Nevins!"

A puff of wind blowing through the high-ceilinged dining room brought with it the unmistakable acrid reek of burning wood.

"What's that?" cried Polk abruptly.

"It is wood smoke, I think—"

Kanamura had time to suggest no more before the great white house awoke to uproar. The dinner party broke up in wild confusion.

"Quick, quick, save the paintings!" cried someone. "Save the antiques!" yelled another. "No, no, the feather cloaks—they're irreplaceable!"

Wild-eyed servants, screaming that the whole second floor was in flames, appeared in a body and rushed for safety outside.

Kilgour got up quietly, waiting for a signal from North. The latter, brushing by, muttered hurriedly: "Get to the terrace—back of house—arrest anybody acting suspiciously—watch for strangers or Karen."

Polk was out of sight, and North darted across the smoke-filled hall, joining other guests now bounding up the wide stone steps after their host. Loud sounded the dry crackling of flames and smoke made it hard to see. All the men, save Kilgour, were struggling on up. Von Rentner and Dunant were just ahead.... By the time he reached the head of the stair, sheets of flame were visible at both ends of the corridor!

While North hesitated, a loud report sounded nearby and something seemed to rap him sharply on the shoulder. His first instinct was to fire at that grotesque figure in a half-open doorway, but reason warned that his first consideration must be the contents of Polk's safe.

Doggedly he lurched on towards the steel king's bedroom. Suddenly his foot struck a heavy yielding object and he fell to his knees and strained his eyes to recognize Charleston—Polk's valet. He was lying in a pool of blood; from between his shoulder blades projected the brass handle of a dagger!

"Schnell! Schnell!" he heard Von Rentner grasping somewhere in the murk ahead. Just then the electric bulbs went out with appalling suddenness.

Towards the door to Polk's room North was feeling his way when he heard two shots and someone gave an ear-shattering scream that ceased as abruptly as it had begun.

His head spinning furiously, he pressed further into the bedroom and so became aware of a figure which swayed in furious combat with another. He ignored them; his only concern was that wall safe.

Was it open?

Clawing his way along the wall, North finally reached the picture. But the safe had been opened; for the picture was swung forward, evidently on a hinge.

Shaken with a terrible fear, he thrust his hand into the safe's circular opening; he found it empty.

Who had got those precious documents? He spun heavily about, aware of scorching heat caused by hungry flames now licking through the wooden partitions of a door to the right.

What had become of the combatants? He would have given much to know who that was who lay sprawled in the center of the bedroom floor. But there was not an instant to lose if he hoped to escape with his life.

Only by a miracle of will power did North retain his senses long enough to find a way through the inferno to reach the stairs. With his clothes half-smoldering, he reeled across the terrace and was horror-stricken to see a man behind a re-bush level a pistol at him.

Desperately North tried to shout out, "Kilgour! Don't!"

At the last instant Kilgour recognized him; instead of shooting, he came bounding forward.

"Heaven, but you're a sight!" he pointed to North's blood-soaked left shoulder. "Who shot you?"

"Dunno—only a graze—who— that—terrace?" were the first words North uttered, and his swollen bloodshot eyes turned to a crumpled figure on the center of the terrace, red-tinted by the flames.

"Some Johnny I saw legging it out of the window with a coal-oil tin in his hand. Winged the blighter when he wouldn't stop," explained Kilgour.

With increasing fury burned the mansion which the millions of Abner Polk had reared.

"Here, where are you going?"

"Look, must look—that man." With tears from his tortured eyes streaming down singed features, North shielded his head against the withering heat and struggled to the broken figure which lay sprawled on the flags. He had just time to realize that the dead man was a Japanese Eurasian of unusual size, when a section of the roof fell in with a deafening crash.

"Come on, come on!" yelled Kilgour. "That bloody wall's totterin'—go in! fall!"

But North, despite the furious heat, knelt to test the dead man's various pockets, and even to thrust a finger into the instep of each shoe.

Kilgour's hand, closing on North's collar, dragged him bodily back across the terrace and down a flight of steps not a quarter of a minute before the seaward wall of Kalua crashed into smoking stone and furiously blazing wood.

"Glad to be very careful now," North rasped while his painfully swollen eyes swept the lawn. "Don't want some other hombre taking pot shots at me."

"Glad it's no worse—the blighter barely grazed you," Kilgour remarked while folding a handkerchief over the skin wound on North's left shoulder, as the American told his colleague about his interview with Polk.

Bruce Kilgour pressed closer. "Then you got the proof?"

"No, somebody—I hope it was Polk—beat me to it," said he, pronounced discouragement in his voice. "But anyway, let's look alive. Bruce, and see what's going on; then we'll go to town and take stock."

By the glare of the conflagration, the two circled far back into the shelter of a grove of banyans. From this vantage point they recognized in the fast-gathering crowd the burly figure of Von Rentner, the plump contours of Armand Dunant, and the feline slenderness of the Japanese ship chandler.

Of Nadia Stefan, the Lloyd girl, and Abner Polk, nothing could be seen, but presently Phedre Renoire came to North to cry out in French that she had seen the Lloyd girl screaming at a window where the flames had trapped her.

"But where's Polk?" North wanted to know. "I must find him. When did you see him last?"

"Ah, Seigneur Dieu! It was at the head of the stairs," she cried. "Oh, mon pauvre ami, but he cannot be dead—he must not be dead!"

Sensing the Frenchwoman to be badly shaken, North gasped, "Be a good lad, Bruce—see if you can find Polk.... I'm all in; so is Miss Renoire—got to sit down a bit."

DEMAND EXAMS FOR POLICE, FIREMEN

Council Acts Following Session With Safety Director

upon council when, as Morris expressed it, "you should have given us sufficient warning," referring to the state maximum hour law which also provides for two weeks annual vacations for the police.

Councilman Fred Koenreich contended that the police shifts could be revamped and a new schedule set up so that it would not be necessary to hire a special patrolman. Koenreich and Rafferty clashed on this contention.

Morris, who said there is no city problems which cooperation could not solve, introduced the motion calling for a meeting of council as a committee next Monday.

Claims Pay Too Low

The safety director also said it was practically impossible to hire men to serve as special policemen at the stipulated salary of 33 cents an hour.

Only a few other matters came before council last night.

A second reading was given to an ordinance transferring $500 from the waterworks fund to the new meters fund of the waterworks department.

The solons decided in favor of installing a sewer line on Highland ave. by following a course down the center of the street, rather than digging a ditch along the curb lawn and possibly spoiling shade trees.

Atty. Lodge Riddle of Lisbon, as receiver for the Ohio Land Co., asked council to consider the purchase of a lake and section of land on the old Tolerton farm south of the city, as a possible site for a city park. The matter was referred to the streets, alleys and sidewalks committee.

Three communications from George Bricker were received and filed.

Slaves Bequeathed

UNFILLED ORDERS HIT NEW PEAKS

Federal Reserve Reports On Industrial Activity In Fourth District

(By Associated Press)
CLEVELAND, July 2.—Unfilled orders in many lines of business have advanced to record peaks even though industrial activity in the fourth district moved rapidly into new high territory, the Federal Reserve bank of Cleveland reported today.

The bank, which each month surveys business conditions in the area covering Ohio, western Pennsylvania, eastern Kentucky and the West Virginia panhandle, asserted:
"Activity in many fields is governed by ability or inability to obtain materials. How much the situation is aggravated by the adoption of what would be considered very unsound purchasing policies under more normal conditions on the part of some is unknown."

"There are cases reported where concerns, in an effort to acquire more materials, place orders with two or three suppliers, and state that failure to obtain merchandise would result in shutdowns. Continuation of operations after an order is refused indicates either effective substitution or larger than reported stocks of the materials that were being sought."

"With all developments pointing to a rapid shifting from non-defense to defense activity, there has been considerable ordering of items, the supply of which is likely to be sharply reduced. Increased employment and payrolls and expanding use of installment credit have contributed to this trend."
The bank noted "many new automobiles have been purchased this year that otherwise would not have been bought because of the general feeling that prices and taxes would be higher."

Similar situations are evident in other lines such as tires and household equipment and outstanding orders of department stores in the area were 137 per cent larger on May 31 than a year previous, "despite the fact that stocks are greater than in more than two years."

As of May 31, the adjusted index of department store inventories was the highest since November, 1938, and up 11 per cent over last year. Retail prices of depart-

NAZIS CLAIMING FRESH VICTORIES

Red Army Reports It Has Wiped Out Advance German Forces

MOSCOW, July 2.—The Red army reported today it had wiped out Nazi advance tank forces in the Dvinsk and Minsk areas and stopped the fierce drives the Germans aimed at Moscow and Leningrad.

Further south, a Soviet communique declared, other heavy blows were struck at strong German forces in the Luck area, gateway to the Ukraine.

Far to the north, above the Arctic circle, a German offensive against the Sredni peninsula, guarding the northern entrance to the ice-free port of Murmansk, was reported meeting "fierce resistance" by Soviet troops.

Of the principal battlefronts the communique declared:
"In the Dvinsk and Minsk direction our troops developed fighting activities last night after having destroyed advanced tank units of the enemy."

"Our troops operating in the Luck direction during last night fought against strong enemy forces, striking a heavy blow to them."

Red army reports that Germany's fiercest drives into White Russia and the Ukraine were checked by counter-attacks and artillery barrages were regarded as indicating that the Arctic-Black sea battle-front is becoming stabilized near the old Russian border.

A Soviet communique declared the violent struggle between Nazi Panzer columns and Russian troops raged unabated.

Fierce Russian resistance was reported in the far north where the Red army was said to be standing off a push by numerically superior German forces from Finnish territory toward Russia's ice-free port of Murmansk.

ment store goods were up for the seventh consecutive month, and had increased four per cent from a year ago.

Bank debits—which record flow of money through checking account transactions—were up 27.5 per cent over last year in the five weeks ended June 18. Compared with a year ago, commercial loans were up 46 per cent, compared with 32 per cent for the nation. The bank said this showed concerns had used up cash balances to accumulate larger inventories and pay for goods in process of production, making it necessary to resort to banks for working capital loans.

TRAGEDY VESSEL IS LABELED JINX

HARPSWELL, Me., July 2.—The 44-foot motorboat Don was pictured today by State Fisheries Warden John Stevens as a jinx ship that was "overcrowded" when it exploded and sent 37 men and women picnickers to death on Sunday.

Declaring the Don had "sunk three times in the past decade" only to be raised, Stevens told newsmen the craft was "topheavy" and that it carried 150 gallons of gasoline, some in cans on deck, when it set out on its last voyage to Monhegan island, 40 miles away.

He added that it was inadequately equipped with life preservers for the party of Rumford and Mexico,
Me., residents.

None of the first nine recovered bodies—two men and seven women —bore life preservers when they were picked up yesterday in the waters or along the shores of Casco bay. Two other bodies were held aboard fog-bound search craft overnight.

Search continued today as federal and state authorities pressed an investigation of the accident.

With every indication that there were no survivors of the trip that started so gayly, the disaster took the highest toll of life in New England waters since 47 perished in the Mackinac tragedy in Narragansett bay, R. I., 16 years ago.

Thirty-three men lost their lives in the sinking of the submarine O-9 off Portsmouth, N. H., last month and 26 died aboard the submarine Squalus in the same testing area in 1939.

Columbiana Budget Studied by Solons

COLUMBIANA, July 2.—Council held a short session Tuesday evening at the city hall with Mayor Arthur Myers presiding. The budget for the year was discussed but no figures were disclosed. Council granted Street Commissioner Walter Thomas a two weeks vacation.

Rev. Paul Wood of the Methodist church, McDonald has been assigned to the local Methodist church to succeed Rev. James C. Wilson according to word from the conference at Lakewood. Rev. Wilson has been granted a leave of absence due to ill health.

The Towasi class of the Presbyterian church will hold the annual picnic at Firestone park this evening. Families of members are to be guests. Mrs. Russell Esterly is chairman of the committee in charge.

There will be a short meeting of Allen Lodge, F. and A. M., at the hall at 8 p. m. Friday.

The meeting of the Girl scouts scheduled for Friday has been postponed, due to the holiday, until July 11. The announcement was made by the leader, Miss Mae Ashman.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Seegerman and sons and Billy Esterly are enjoying a vacation trip in Canada. Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Glickler and family are vacationing in Baltimore with relatives. They will also visit in Washington, returning along the Skyline drive.

The annual reunion of the Solomon Esterly family will be held at the American Legion home, Pearl st., Friday. A picnic dinner will be served at noon.

Herbert C. Nolan spent Tuesday and Wednesday in Columbus on business.

Epidemic
 LOS ANGELES—Strange coincidence department:
 Robert Fisher, 8, brought to Georgia Street hospital, told Dr. Robert J. Moes he was burned when a paper milk carton exploded as he was burning it in an incinerator.

Three minutes later an ambulance brought in Rondonny Bonner.

9. He reported the same thing had happened to him. Neither was burned seriously, said Dr. Moes.

Never before, attendants said, had an accident of the kind been reported to the hospital.

"I WOULD OFTEN GO TO BED HUNGRY, AFRAID TO EAT," SAYS THIS LADY

"Declares That She Suffered With Terrible Stomach Distress Every Time She Ate. Bothered With Chronic Constipation, Severe Headaches, Soothing Rheumatic Pains Until Ton Jon Gave Her Amazing Relief."

MRS. HAZEL HENDERSHOT

How often the expression "Ton Jon is the only medicine that ever helped me," is heard from the hundreds of men, women, and children, who have found relief in Ton Jon 1-2-3, the new and different medicine. Yet, this is not strange because the many valuable ingredients work together in attacking disease at its very source and in battling the causes. Ton Jon 1-2-3 are medicines of deeds, not words; of performances, not promises.

Mrs. Hazel Hendershot of Powhatan Point near Martins Ferry, O., and a member of the Christian Church tells her splendid story of successful results with Ton Jon. She states:

"I was very badly constipated for years and found it necessary to take harsh habit-forming laxatives. This serious ailment was soon eliminated when I started taking Ton Jon. For years eating meant misery. Nothing agreed with me, no matter how little or how light the food. I would go to bed many a night hungry afraid to eat. My stomach was so sore that I could hardly stand it. Every night I had to get up several times and the loss of sleep and my broken rest resulted in nervousness and a general rundown condition. I felt miserable all over, for my system must have been saturated with poisons and impurities.

"My limbs and arms were always full of sharp rheumatic pains and my back, and the back of my neck were constant aching misery. My ankles would swell badly and I suffered from awful sick headaches.

"No longer do I suffer from every bite of food I eat. Indigestion, cramps, acid rising and gas do not cause me a bit of misery any more. I am very well pleased with my experience with Ton Jon.

You cannot go wrong in giving one of these three 1-2-3 Ton Jons a chance to help you. Visit the Ton Jon Health Representative at Broadway Lease Drug Store, Salem, Ohio.

FDR STILL HOPING WAR WILL MISS U.S.

Makes Definite, However,
It's Hope and Not Certainty

(By Associated Press)
HYDE PARK, N. Y., July 2.—The American people today had assurance from their President that he was hopeful the United States would remain out of the war.

But even if conflict is avoidable, a spending program approaching $40,000,000,000 is being devoted for the most part to defense and aid to countries already battling the axis.

It was at a press conference yesterday that the chief executive repeated an expression of hope that America would not have to fight.

He left no uncertainty, however, that what he entertained was a hope rather than a definite belief about the chances of avoiding war. Back when the war in Europe first began, a reporter said, the chief executive had answered questions whether he thought the United States could keep out by saying he "thought we could."

The President amended that to say he had asserted that he hoped so. That same old answer stands, he declared, as it has since Britain and France went to war with Germany in September, 1939.

The vast spending program was shoved up a little short of $40,000,000,000 last night when Mr. Roosevelt signed bills appropriating $10,000,000,000 for relief, $1,195,935,780 for the labor department and federal security agency, $1,340,000,000 for the agriculture department, $54,795,000 for the District of Columbia and $24,567,000 for congress.

The money is to be spent in the fiscal year which began yesterday. A $1,030,000,000 deficiency appropriation failed to arrive in time to be signed with the other money measures, but Mr. Roosevelt may approved it today.

Another measure which he did sign extends the functions of the Commodity Credit corporation until June 30, 1943, and raises its crop loan fund from $1,400,000,000 to $2,650,000,000.

Motorist Fined $100

Morris T. Reese, 47, of Washington, pleaded guilty to a charge of driving while intoxicated before Mayor Arthur Myers in Columbiana yesterday and was fined $100 and costs. Reese was arrested by the state as the result of a traffic mishap near Columbiana Monday night.

Thomas Morley of Youngstown, charged with reckless driving by the patrol, was fined $10 and costs by Justice J. R. Gause of Deerfield.

RUSSIANS EXPECT EXTENDED BATTLE

Proceed With Plans For Purchasing Supplies
From U. S.

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, July 2.—Soviet Russia indicated that it expected a long war today by proceeding with preliminary negotiations for the purchase of vital supplies in the United States.

Russia's decision to begin shopping here for such materials that can be spared was looked on as an official expression of confidence that Russia, despite initial Nazi successes, would be able to halt Hitler's newest blitzkrieg short of victory.

Informed officials here said that Russian representatives in this country undoubtedly are aware that, with few exceptions, delivery on any purchases they make is bound to be long deferred. Because of this fact, they believed that the Russians were thinking in terms of a long-range program.

It was evident, these sources pointed out, that the excess supplies now available for Soviet purchase were too negligible to exert any tangible effect on the present tide of battle, and furthermore, it would take the materials too long to get to Russia.

The Soviet, for example, could not expect to obtain any strictly military supplies, it was said, until such time as American industry neared production peaks, because the output for months to come has been earmarked for the needs of national defense, and for lend-lease aid to Britain and China.

A somewhat similar situation obtains with regard to other strategic supplies—such as machine tools and manufacturing equipment.

However, the general belief here was that the Red army in the past decade had built up huge reserves of military stores, and that the Soviet now was interested in ob-

DEFENSE PROGRAM TAKING TEACHERS

COLUMBUS, July 2.—A plea for further reorganization of school districts and a warning that the defense program was making startling inroads on the supply of teachers were contained in a biennial report filed today by E. N. Dietrich, state director of education.

"While much has been accomplished in reorganization of school districts," Dietrich told Gov. John W. Bricker, "there is still a great deal to be done. Millions of dollars could be saved to the state if legislation could be secured which would bring about larger units of administration."

Alarm over the supply of teachers was expressed by Harold J. Bowers, supervisor of the division of teacher certification.

"Superintendents report that draft boards deferred 552 teachers until June 1," Bowers said. "They also report that at least 1,000 men will be required to fill teaching positions made vacant by the selective service act by September 1."

"The existing condition made by the Selective Service Act would not be particularly serious except for the fact that the potential supply of college graduates will be proportionately decreased. It seems safe, on the basis of present trends, to predict a serious shortage of teachers."

The report noted a sharp reversal in the employment of men and women teachers in recent years, with 61 per cent of the 1937 instructors being males, and 1940 contracts showing only 28 per cent men.

BOISE, Idaho.—The secret is out. Idahoans, who wondered how Governor Clark could appear so chipper after long automobile trips to the far corners of the state now know—

A full-length bed has been installed in the rear of the executive's car.

Replacing replacement for the future and also the machine tools and equipment for its arms industries.

WAVELL IS GIVEN INDIAN COMMAND

(By Associated Press)
LONDON, July 2.—Gen. Sir Archibald P. Wavell suddenly was transferred today from the Middle East to India, and surprised Britons speculated on the possibility that the government foresaw a quick German victory over Soviet Russia and a subsequent Nazi drive on the Ganges.

The transfer, in fact, was a switch of commands. Gen. Sir Claude Auchinleck, 57-year-old Scot, moving from India to the Middle East.

Sir Claude, about whom the British public knows little, was named commander-in-chief of India last January 27 after distinguishing himself by directing the British attack on Narvik, Norway, and organizing English coastal defenses.

Formal notice of the change, issued early today at 10 Downing street, gave no reason for the action.

Some military quarters immediately interpreted them as a move to give Sir Archibald a rest following the heavy campaigning in which his forces swept across eastern Libya, only to be driven back by reinforced Axis forces, and losing fights were carried on in Greece and Crete.

Others held the changes to indicate that the forces on India's northwest frontier were due for action.

There was a general reluctance in most quarters to consider Sir Archibald's transfer a demotion even though most of his early African successes appeared to be overshadowed by the loss of Crete and the successful German-Italian counter-offensive in Libya.

Remand $32,000,000 Suit

COLUMBUS, July 2.—City Attorney John L. Davies' $42,000,000 "gas dilution" suit against the Columbia Gas & Electric Corp. and subsidiaries has been remanded to Franklin county common pleas court by the district of appeals. which the new order numbers are sifted into the old registration. There are two ways in which this is planned to be done, final details of which will be announced shortly.

May Follow Key Number
All 6,500 draft boards in the nation have just been ordered to report to Washington the high order number in their district which has been inducted normally up to June 30, inclusive. Volunteer numbers were to be disregarded.

Some officials expect the new numbers to be placed directly after this key number and thus be among the first to be called for the future.

A perhaps more favored plan at Washington is not to place the new names at the end of the inducted registrants or at the end of the total registration but to intersperse the new numbers by some equitable ratio among the old numbers still unducted. A ratio of 1 to 5 is being considered, that is, one new man for every five old. Each new number would have the letter "S" preceding it.

Thus, if a local board had some 3,000 registrants but had called only 1,000, its next procedure would be to call numbers as follows: 1,001; 1,002; 1,003; 1,004; 1,005; S-1; 1,006; 1,007; 1,008; 1,009; 1,010; S-2, and so forth.

Speed Tank Plates

CLEVELAND, July 2.—Republic Steel Corp. is producing enough light armor plate, fabricated for immediate assembly, to supply 200 tanks a month, it was declared to-day in a letter which accompanied divided checks to stockholders.

STARK JUDGE TILT IS BACK IN COURT

COLUMBUS, July 2.—The con-test between C. B. McClintock and Frank N. Sweitzer for Stark coun-ty common pleas court judge reach-ed the state supreme court again to-day.

Only a month ago, the supreme court reversed the Stark county ap-pellate court holding it had set too rigid a rule for consideration of fraud testimony in election con-tests, and ordering a retrial.

Sweitzer on a recount of last November election ballots was declared the winner by a slight mar-gin. McClintock filed a contest in the appellate court, charging bal-lots were tampered with in cer-tain precincts.

Twice the appellate court held that the fraud evidence offered by McClintock was too general in its character and dismissed his suit.

The supreme court will hear the case again Friday morning July 11. McClintock, a Republican, is a former county prosecutor and con-gressman. Sweitzer is a Democrat.

Yanks Win Five Straight, Nine Of Last Ten, To Clinch Lead

TAKE DOUBLE WIN TO LEAD TRIBE BY THREE-GAME EDGE

DiMaggio Scores Two Hits In Opener, One In Second Game

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Staff Writer
The Yankee streak that you probably haven't heard anything about is a five-game winning streak—and it may turn out to be more important than Joe DiMaggio's sensational string of hits or the club's chain of home runs.

The New York bombers are riding the strong and the weak alike these days. Their double victory, 7-2 and 8-2, over the rugged Boston Red Sox yesterday gave them a record of nine wins in their past 10 games and increased their American league lead to three games in spite of the fact that the Cleveland Indians won last night at St. Louis.

DiMaggio, whose hitting streak has captured the fancy of fans to such an extent that a crowd of 52,832 turned out at Yankee stadium for what otherwise would have been a drab mid-week double-header, lived up to everyone's hope.

Marks 4th Game

He made two hits in the opener and one in the five-inning nightcap to tie Willie Keeler's all-time major league record of hitting in 44 consecutive contests in 1897, when fouls didn't count as strikes. The Indians have been showing some of their expected doldrums and last night Manager Roger Peckinpaugh fined and suspended Roy Weatherly, one of the league's best centerfielders, for not hustling. The Tribe tore into the St. Louis Browns for a 10-6 triumph with Hal Trosky and pitcher Al Milnar hitting home runs and Jeff Heath having a perfect turn at bat with four hits.

A's Whip Senators
The Philadelphia Athletics whipped the Washington Senators, 10-1, with a 16-hit offensive and fourth-hitting by Rookie Phil Marichildon.

Detroit downed the Chicago White Sox, 5-1, with Paul (Dizzy) Trout pitching three-hit ball. The St. Louis Cardinals gained exclusive possession of first place in the National League again by plastering an 11-7 defeat on the Pittsburgh Pirates with a 17-hit assault led by John Mize and Johnny Hopp, each with four hits.

The Brooklyn Dodgers dropped a 6-4 decision to the Phillies when Stan Benjamin singled with the bases loaded in the tenth. This was the first time in 11 games this season the tail-enders had licked the Dodgers, who played like they were caught off guard.

The downtrodden Boston Braves came through with a 6-4 victory over the New York Giants in the only other National League game.

Breezy Briefs Of Sport From Brietz To You

By EDDIE BRIETZ
NEW YORK, July 2.—(The Special News Service)—Eighty percent of the telephone calls to the sports department of a Pittsburgh newspaper the other night concerned Joe DiMaggio's hitting streak. . . . The Dodgers have had five players beamed since the start of last season and if that isn't a modern record for one club, sue us. . . . Did you know that Willie Keeler, whose consecutive hitting streak Joe DiMaggio equaled yesterday, once beat out five infield hits in one game, all of them to short? . . . Don McNeil has the G-man bug and may hang up his racket at the end of this season—if he can get a job. . . . Chick Mehan, the new Ebbets field, light promoter, has joined in the chorus and is blasting the boxing monopoly. Well, many have blasted, but the monopoly keeps right on monopolizing.

Today the fans
Are prone to scoff
At the "sad, sad Russian," Novikoff.

Bob Seeds, the former giant, is riding the Baltimore bench for pitiful hitting. Joe Medwick has been using a lighter bat and the dividends are rolling in. . . . correction: It is the National Semi-Pro baseball congress (not the American Legion) which has hired "one-eye" Connolly to preside over the pass game. . . . The heat must be terrible in Washington. They say "Old Fox" Griffith actually offered Dick Wakefield, the Michigan star, 40 grand to autograph a Senator contract. . . . Frankie Kovacs, the clown prince of tennis, registered for the draft yesterday and may be on his way soon. . . . Old Zeke Bonura has been appointed assistant to the athletic officer at Camp Shelby, Mississippi. . . . N. B. C. and the latter have signed to broadcast Herman Taylor's Philly fights. Prof. Sam Taub and Bill Stern will officiate.

Today's Guest Star
Francis Sargent, Lowell (Mass.) Sun: "No wonder the army turned Johnny Rigney down for ear trouble. . . . after all, he didn't sit next to Jimmy Dykes on the White Sox bench all those years for nothing."

(By the same token, the Dodgers and Pirates who have to listen to Durocher and Frisch, have little cause for draft worries.)

About all we can get out of the war news these days is that they're having a claim race in Russia.

RIFLE MATCHES TO BE HELD AT CAMP PERRY ONCE MORE

Moved Back to Original Site; Government Will Share Expenses

By FRITZ HOWELL
CAMP PERRY, July 2.—The historic National Rifle matches, shifted several weeks ago from this Ohio National Guard encampment because of the national emergency, were rescheduled today for the Camp Perry range following appropriation of necessary funds by congress. The National Rifle association, which had booked the 1941 small bore rifle competition for the Mt. Okead range of the Ohio Rifle and the pistol events to the L. A. Young range in Detroit, announced that the chances were "out" and that the guns would blaze here.

The 30-caliber rifle matches are washed out for the year, but the pistol and small-bore events, definitely are on, W. F. Shadel of Washington, public relations chief for the rifle association, said.

Electrically operated targets for all events will be shifted from their present site north of the Erie ordnance depot, where big guns are being tested to the 200 and 300-yard 30 caliber ranges in the center of the camp.

Shorten Session
Instead of taking up three full weeks as in the past, the matches will run from Aug. 31 to Sept. 7, with the first three days offering a small arms firing school, and the remainder the actual competition.

Funds made available by congress, Shadel said, would permit payment of range personnel, expenses for many of the shooters, and other incidental costs including reconstruction of the range. Expenses of two high scorers in each of the master expert, sharpshooter and marksman classes in regional shoots will be paid by Perry, but no shooter who has received such help in the past will be eligible this year in the same class or a lower one.

Shadel said that competitors would be housed on the Camp Perry grounds, as in the past, and that dining facilities also would be provided here. With the 30-caliber marksman not competing, the pistol and small-bore fields are expected to total about 1200 shooters from every state in the union.

Conservation Men Develop New Leg-Band for Grouse
GRAYLING, Mich.—State department of conservation officers have developed a set of colored leg bands, each representing a different hunting district, to trace the movement and travel of sharp-tail grouse.

The bands, attached to the leg just above the standard numbered metal band, are visible in any type foliage or against the sky, the department said.

Double Order of Trout Turns Lake to Paradise
HAMMONTON, N. J.—An error on the part of the state fish and game commission has turned a small lake near here into a trout angler's paradise.

Several weeks ago a routine order of 2400 fish were dumped into Hammonton lake. Somehow the commission got its deliveries twisted and a duplicate order was sent through.

Now there are 4800 trout in the lake and the fishing is twice as good.

MULLINS TAKE 2-0 WIN FROM SAXONS

Guappone Hurls Two-Hit Victory; Other Game Rained Out

In the only class A game played last night at Centennial park Bill "Gaby" Guappone, held the Saxons to two safe hits as Mullins shut them out, 2-0. Wagner was the only Saxon batter able to solve Guappone's offering and he connected for two safe clouts.

A scheduled China-SWOC game was rained out. McCloskey knocked out a double for Mullins while Skip Greenisen singled twice, scored once, in three trips to the plate. The first round champions collected six hits from Linder in the seven inning contest.

The victory moves Mullins into fourth place in the second round of league play. It is the Saxons' third loss in three starts in the second round.

Church League
The Trinity, scoring in every inning, piled up 14 runs last night to 10 for St. Pauls to win a seven inning struggle. Kachner, with a double and home run, was the leading Trinity hitter.

The second church league game was also rained out.

"Bob Feller Night" Scheduled July 10

CLEVELAND, July 2.—Bob Feller night will be celebrated in Cleveland stadium Thursday night, July 10, with officials and players of the Cleveland Baseball Federation, governing body of the local sandlots, joining with the Cleveland Baseball Co., and the Sporting News, national baseball weekly, to pay tribute to the Cleveland Indians' speed ball star.

Prior to the Tribe's nocturnal game with the Philadelphia Athletics, Feller will be presented with a plaque by the Cleveland Baseball Federation, and with a trophy emblematic of being the "player of 1940" by the Sporting News.

Officials of the C. B. F. have arranged for each spectator to receive a large autographed photograph of Feller, and the attendance is expected to be swelled by nearly 5,000 local sandloters.

Schacht Will Clown
Al Schacht, famous baseball clown, will be on hand for his side-splitting exhibitions which include everything from tennis matches and wrestling bouts to a slow motion boxing match in which he knocks himself out.

"Just when Bob will be called to army service is uncertain," President William T. Duggan of the Cleveland Baseball Federation said today, "so rather than make last minute plans such as was the case when Hank Greenburg was inducted, we are planning a tribute that will be a lasting memory to both Feller and the Cleveland baseball fans alike."

Feller first came into national prominence in 1936 when he took the mound for the Indians in an exhibition game against the St. Louis Cardinals at League park and fanned eight of the "Gas House Gang". Feller, then only 17 years old, was hurling for the Rosenblums in local

AIR CORPS TRIES HAND AT FARMING

OGDEN, Utah.—Army authorities consider adding a general course in agriculture to training of new air corps enrollees.

For men of the air corps unwittingly joined a "back-to-the-land" movement when the war department acquired 1,600 acres of farmland near here for its new Utah general depot—ultimate military supply center for the entire west.

Officers and men of the 7th Bombardment Group were pressed into service cutting hay and picking strawberries when harvest time found the army with a farm on its hands—and no farm hands.

The hay went to army posts still using horses—and the berries to mess tables at Fort Douglas air base, near Salt Lake City.
